AFTER FILING FORM I-360:
NEXT STEPS AND IMPORTANT INFORMATION

1. RECEIPT NOTICE
Within a few weeks of filing, you should receive a Form I-797, Notice of Action (Receipt Notice), confirming that USCIS has received your applications (I360 and I485). Keep this notice safe, as it contains important information such as your receipt number, which you can use to track your case online.

2. CASE STATUS CHECK
Regularly check your case status using the USCIS Case Status tool. This online portal provides real-time updates on the progress of your application, including any requests for additional evidence or notices about scheduled interviews.

3. BIOMETRICS APPOINTMENT
If required, attend the biometrics appointment as scheduled by USCIS. During this appointment, your fingerprints, photograph, and signature will be taken to verify your identity and conduct background checks.

4. PRIMA FACIE DETERMINATION
Confirmation from USCIS that your case was checked and inspected and found to be eligible for adjudication on the merits. After the determination is issued, the applicant is eligible to receive immigration benefits such as Employment Authorization Document and Advance Parole.

5. EMPLOYMENT AUTHORIZATION (EAD) AND ADVANCE PAROLE (AP)
After receiving Prima Facie Determination, you can submit Form I-765 (Application for Employment Authorization) and Form I-131 (Application for Travel Document), and you may receive an Employment Authorization Document (EAD) and/or Advance Parole (AP) card. These documents allow you to work and travel while your green card application is pending.

6. RESPONDING TO REQUESTS FOR EVIDENCE (RFES)
If USCIS requires additional information or documentation to process your case, they may issue a Request for Evidence (RFE). It is crucial to respond to any RFE promptly and thoroughly. Failure to provide the requested information within the specified timeframe may result in delays or denials..

7. I360 DECISION (VAWA)
USCIS will notify you in writing of the decision on your self-petition. If approved, you will get details about benefits granted. If denied, the notice will explain the reasons for the denial, and you may have the option to appeal the decision.

8. ATTEND THE INTERVIEW (IF REQUIRED)
If an interview is scheduled for your I485 Application to Register Permanent Residence or Adjust Status, ensure you are well-prepared. Review the details of your case, gather relevant documentation, and consult with us for any further steps.

9. PATIENCE AND PERSISTENCE
The processing of Form I-360 VAWA cases can take time. Practice patience and persistence throughout the process. Continue to check case status, respond promptly to USCIS requests, and follow up as needed.

10. LEGAL CONSULTATION
If you encounter challenges or have concerns during the process, contact us and we will be happy to assist you and help you resolve your issues/concerns.

The process may take some time, but with patience and diligence, you can navigate the post-filing period successfully. Best of luck on your journey to obtaining permanent residency in the United States!
